

Corona Says

- Vishnu S. Rai

• Answer the following questions:

a. Who is the speaker in the poem?

Ans Corona Virus is the speaker in the poem. The speaker addresses to human beings and warns them criticizing their activities.

The speaker is a personified character to which human qualities are attributed. The poet makes a corona virus speak of the ~~of~~ atrocities displayed by human over mother earth. The speaker satires human attitude of treating earth as their personal property and other living being as their slaves. It asks them to correct their attitude to ensure their own survival.

All these warnings and suggestions are given to human by the speaker - a corona virus.

b. Who claim that they are superior to all?

Ans Human beings claim that they are superior to all. Human beings call themselves as the crown of creation and king of the mother earth.

Because of their ego, They / Human beings rule over all the creatures present in the earth. Human beings sell or kill those who fly in the sky, live in the ocean, who crawl on the earth as they are their personal property. Not only that Human beings also cut and sell the trees for their benefit which is the source of their oxygen. Human beings have done all the work against mother earth for their will.

All these done by human beings because they think they are superior to all.

Q) Why has the speaker come to earth?
Ans) The speaker (Corona) has come to earth to give mother earth rest and to warn all the human beings for their behaviour to mother earth and all the creatures in earth.

Human beings make the blue sky dirty, full of smoke and dirt by running different types of industries. Not only that they sell or kill the other creatures present in the earth as they are superior to all which make mother earth unhappy. Because of the human's behaviour mother earth was too tired. So that the mother earth could have a little rest the speaker (corona) came to earth.

Human beings think themselves the crown of creation and rule all over the earth so, The speaker (corona) warn them.

d) What positive changes have occurred on Earth after the speaker's visit?

Ans. After the speaker's visit the human beings realized that they are not superior in the earth and the pollution of dust and smoke has reduced.

Before the corona virus come human beings had made the earth dirty and full of pollution. So that the mother earth could have rest corona virus came to earth. To warn human beings, To make ~~feel~~ feel human beings guilty Corona virus came to earth. After the arrival of corona the air become fresh and ~~for~~ dust free. Health experts are awarded to tackle such things before getting huge or bigger.

The mindset of people has changed and fear is set on the mind after corona pandemic.

a. What does the speaker mean when he says:

But have you ever counted
How many have died so far
Because of you and your wars?

Ans In this line the speaker, Corona questions human beings about the destruction caused by their wars, conflict etc. Corona says human beings not to count people killed by virus because people have died more in wars by human beings than corona virus.

Corona reminds humans that countless people have already died due to their selfishness, conflict and violence. The virus ironically asks whether people have ever stopped to count the victims of their own wrong doings. The meaning is that human themselves are much more responsible for greater suffering than the virus. Through this poem, the poet criticizes human pride and cruelty. The speaker wants people to realize that human wars, weapons, and greed have killed more lives than any diseases. Corona says that the real enemy of mankind is not only a virus but of their own destructive behaviour against themselves.

This is a reminder that unless human beings live peacefully and control their ego, they will continue to suffer from the outcomes of their own activities.

b. Explain the following:

I will depart one day

But remember

There're many others like me

They'll come too

If you don't get rid of your inflated ego

You'll be back to your cave time

That you endured

Long, long, Long, Long ago---

Ans The speaker (corona) warns human beings about their careless lifestyle. The virus warns human beings by saying whether it ~~is~~ will depart ~~but~~ but there are too many others virus which are waiting to come in earth to give mother earth rest and also they can remove human beings from mother earth. if the human beings donot change their behaviour.

The lines suggest that nature has its own way of teaching lesson to mankind. If human continue to pollute the earth with dust and smoke and live with inflated ego they may fall back to primitive times where survival was very hard. The speaker indicated that the virus are only one form of nature's reaction, but many other diseases or disasters will appear if people do not respect ~~ego~~ nature and do not control their inflated ego.

The message is that human beings must learn to respect all the creatures of earth as them (human), correct their wrongdoings and live responsibly to avoid such sufferings in the future.

Q) What does the speaker mean in the following lines? Explain.

The earth is not your property alone
it's as much ours as yours.

Ans. By saying "The earth is not your property alone - it's as much ours as yours." the speaker highlights the idea of coexistence. Corona wants to remind humans that the Earth does not belong only to mankind. Other living beings, nature and even tiny organisms have equal rights to live here without any fear with freedom.

Humans, however, act as if they are the master of everything and the king of the creations. They exploit land, water, and air without caring about others. The speaker challenges this selfish thought and stresses that the planet is shared by all forms of life. It is a warning that when humans deny the rights of other creatures, nature reacts through disasters, diseases and pandemics. Thus, the poet conveys the lesson of equality, harmony and shared responsibility. Humans must accept that they are only a part of nature, not its owner.

If human donot control their inflated ego they ~~have to~~ may have to restart their life from their stone age.

a) What human behaviours are responsible for the suffering in people's lives?

Ans Human suffering are mostly caused by their own behaviours such as greed, selfishness, violence, wars and misuse of nature. Mainly Human's inflated ego is ~~the~~ main ~~cause~~ responsible for the suffering in people's lives.

People destroy forests, pollute rivers and air with different types of chemical, and fight each other for power and wealth. Such activities ~~invites~~ invite disaster, poverty, diseases instead of living in harmony. If people lived with peace and responsibility towards the environment, then most of the suffering could be avoided.

Humans have to control their inflated ego and destructive behaviour to continue lives without suffering otherwise they have to restart their life from their primitive age.

b) How does an epidemic differ from pandemic? Briefly explain the impact of Corona Virus on human life and environment.

Ans. Pandemic is a spread of a fatal disease over the world; whereas epidemic is the spread of a fatal disease within a geographical area. The corona virus started as an epidemic but soon turned into a pandemic, affecting the whole world.

It caused deaths, unemployment, and fear in society. However the environment improved during lockdown: air became fresh, water become clean, pollution decreased and wildlife reappeared due to involvement of human beings decreases in industries and others. Corona taught humans that their ego and careless use of nature can destroy them, and balanced living is essential.
